— Our hygiene concept

For your safety

Contactless booking and arrival

We provide a contactless process - from booking to payment. Participants of your event are able to drive directly into our Brucklyn parking garage in order to increase safety.

Space for distance

Brucklyn Coworking offices are designed to be spacious enough to allow you to keep the necessary minimum distance. In addition, in times of Covid-19 your event can be divided into several meeting spaces by connecting our rooms via multi-room conferencing.

This way, you can also allow external guests to participate without contact - and at the same time turn your event into a virtual, interactive event.

Disinfecting on a regular basis

Brucklyn Coworking stands for responsibility. That is why we wear masks. It goes without saying that we hand out masks to your employees and guests.

Our meeting rooms are regularly cleaned, disinfected and ventilated, so that you will find a completely hygienic work environment. There are several disinfection stations across the building for individual safety. Air purifiers for clean breathing air complete our hygiene concept.

— New Work

3 New perspectives & unimagined chances

Your employees - the most valuable resource

With New Work and working in our coworking space, you can stay fit for the future, retain employees for the long term and set the foundation for a new mindset. Agile working methods help you develop innovative ideas and accelerate the implementation of your projects. We offer you space for creative collaboration that creates perspectives and awakens potential.

Everything is set up

The rooms at the Brucklyn Coworking have a broad range of modern equipment. Whatever you need for a smooth implementation - you'll find it here:

- › Latest presentation and sound technology
- › Wirelessly addressable monitors with interfaces for multiple input devices
- › Fully equipped moderation cases
- › Writable, magnetic partitions
- › Analog & digital flipcharts
- › Multi-room and hybrid conferences

When enthusiasm becomes innovation

New Work is on everyone's lips - at Brucklyn Coworking it is lived. Whether brainstorming in plenary sessions or agile working in small teams, we offer the best conditions. Our premises are as individual as the needs of our guests. Not only meeting rooms with writable walls are waiting for you, but also our show staircase with a big screen as an event space. For team building you may use the Ping-Pong area and challenge your colleagues at the Carrera track.
